

SE200 | Safety Notice

The Black Diamond SE200 Hands Free Car Kit is designed to allow you to converse on a mobile phone without manipulation of the mobile phone. Any activity that can distract the driver should be avoided.

Incoming calls can be answered simply by pressing the Multifunction button on the SE200. If your mobile phone supports Voice dialling, this can be activated using the Multifunction button. It is illegal to make an outbound call from your mobile handset - or perform any function that requires manipulation of your mobile handset, while driving.

It is illegal to read or send SMS text messages while driving. The SE200 does not support text messaging. Ensure your mobile handsets incoming TXT notification is short and non-distracting.

It is important that you become familiar with the operation of your SE200 before you locate it in your car. Failure to do so will cause unnecessary distraction while driving.

Best Practice Guide

- Be familiar with the operation of your SE200 before you locate it in your car.
- Turn your SE200 on before you start your vehicle
- Know how to answer a call
- Know how to reject a call
- Know how to change the volume
- Do not make outbound calls (unless your phone supports voice dialling)
- Do not send or read Text messages
- Do not use your mobile handset while driving